

Personal Issues Gender Roles - Women's Right

Gender roles in society means how we are expected to act, speak, dress, care about our body based on our Gender. For example, women are generally expected to dress in a typical feminine way and be polite and nurturing. Men are generally expected to be strong and brave. Fortunately, these typical roles are changing these days. We also can see those typical roles in our jobs. There are jobs that are mostly done by women, and the other way around. On July 1st, 1958, the "Law on Equal Rights for Men and Women in the Field of Civil Law" came into force. An important milestone, but women are still disadvantaged today.

Every group of society has gender role expectations but can be very different from group to group. These expectations can change over the time in those groups. Nowadays there are different group styles, like a typical skater or surfer.

There are four basic kinds of gender stereotypes:

- personality traits
 - women: accommodating, emotional, loyal, lovingly
 - men: strong, protective, aggressive, briskly
- domestic behaviors
 - women: take care of children, cook and clean at home
 - men: take care of finance, do home repairs, take care of the car, work, earn money
- occupations
 - women: teacher, nurse, office management clerk, retail clerk, saleswoman
 - men: pilot, doctor, engineer, electronics technician, roofer, mechanic, carpenter
- physical appearance
 - women: thin, stylish, well dressed
 - men: tall, muscular

Due to extreme gender stereotypes, humanity can suffer from it.

Men are not allowed to cry or express feelings and women for example can't work as manager or on a leadership position. These typical roles come from earlier centuries and are of course outdated.

How can we fight gender stereotypes?

- Point it out!
 - In films and nowadays social media stereotypes often occur and are hard to discover.
- Be a living example!
 - Influencers are role models nowadays and help insecure people.
 - It is important to support each other.
- Speak up!
 - When a person makes a sexist joke and comment, talk to these, and confront them.
 - Many people don't get it, that they hurt feelings with such comments, so tell them.
- Give it a try!
 - If you want to do something that is not typical for your gender, just try it.
 - Everybody can do what he or she wants to, nobody can tell you how to be.

Women's Rights

Today in many countries like India, China or the Arab countries women are not allowed to drive a car, go to school and do many other things. Women are also at a disadvantage when it comes to finding a job. Women get less money for their work and it can be more difficult for them to move up in the job. In some cases they get less money than men for the exact same job.

Even in the agriculture women have a big disadvantage. For women its harder to get access to important tools and resources.

Victims of crime or discrimination are mostly women or girls. They are weaker, so they often must deal with domestic and sexual violence. Men see revealing clothing as an invitation for unwanted touching, which is by no means true.

For many years women's rights movements have been fighting for their right and this leads to changes in the law.

In many countries, women are still excluded from elections, even if the law says they are allowed to elect.

Women are still discriminated in sports today when it comes to salary. In general, women were only allowed to practice many sports many years later than men.

If we take soccer for example, a man gets more salary in a lower division than a woman playing in the highest division.
